

Educational component	Elective educational component 7.2 «Current development problems of European countries»
Level HE	First (bachelor) level
Name of specialty / educational-professional program	291 «International Relations, Public Communications and Regional Studies» / «International Relations»
Form of study	Full-time
Course, semester, duration	3 year, 6 semester, 5 credits
Semester control	Credit
Number of hours (total: including lectures / practical)	150 hours (10 lectures, 20 practical)
Language of instruction	English
Department that provides teaching	Department of International Relations and Regional Studies
Author of the Educational component	PhD (candidate of geographical sciences), associate professor of the Department of International Relations and Regional Studies Kopachinska Galina
Brief description
Requirements for the beginning of the study	basic theoretical knowledge of the history of international relations, the peculiarities of the functioning of the modern system of international relations, political geography and world economy
What will be studied	features and problematic issues of the development of European countries, specific features of their interaction, the place and role of European countries in the modern system of international relations, the impact of the war in Ukraine on the foreign policy of European countries.
Why this academic course is interesting / necessary to study	for a holistic understanding and study of the processes taking place in the system of international relations; to understand the significance, place and role of European countries in the modern system of international relations
What can be achieved by study (learning outcomes)	to obtain knowledge about the place and role of European countries in the modern system of international relations; prerequisites and factors for the formation of their foreign policy interests; analysis of the current problems of European countries' development; understanding the specifics of the of European countries interaction and assessing the impact of the war in Ukraine on European policy
How acquired knowledge and skills can be used (competencies)	in order to know and understand the nature of international relations and regional development of European countries; the evolution, state, as well as the nature and sources of the policy of European countries in the international arena; to analyze the problems of European countries international relations, as well as the impact of the war in Ukraine on their implementation.